CHIEF GETTING UP EVIDENCE

GAVE PATROLMEN INSTRUCTIONS REGARDING THE SALOONS.

NAMES OF PROPRIETORS AND WOMEN TO BE GOTTEN

WANTS INFORMATION FOR USE WHEN THE SALOON LICENSE RENEWALS COME UP.

First of Next Week the Law Compelling Closing of Saloons at Midnight Becomes Effective.

Chief James Collins, of the police department, yesterday issued orders to the patrolmen to get up immediately all the evidence they can regarding saloons over the city that have permitted females to visit them, also secure the names of the women, and in addition gather what they can learn showing what saloons have permitted women to reside on the second floor, or in any room around the grogshop.

This information is for use of the city legislative board when the latter, the first of next month, renew the semi-annual licenses. The legislative authorities some months ago adopted a resolution stipulating in broad and plain terms that the first of July they would refuse to renew the license of any saloonkeeper who had been guilty of violating the law in any manner. It is against the ordinances for a lewd character to visit a saloon, and although there is no ordinance preventing a woman from rooming upon the second floor of a grogshop, still the legislators state they consider this a moral violation.

One of the members of the license committee, that will hear all of this evidence, said yesterday that they would possibly hold their first committee meeting next Monday evening at the city hall, although the exact date had not yet been fully decided upon. They want to hold the first meeting early in the week in order that there will be plenty of time for all parties to be heard; also complaints and protests from residents living immediately around the grogshop, excepted to. The character of the institution will be delved into, all the complainants given an exhaustive hearing, which will also be accorded the proprietors, and then, when everything is finished in this line, the committee will decide what licenses to recommend for renewal, and also which ones shall not be renewed.

Tomorrow evening the aldermen give final adoption to the ordinance requiring saloons to close at midnight and remain shut until 5 o'clock the following morning. Friday, the document will be given the president of the councilmanic and aldermanic boards to sign, and when this is done Mayor Yeiser will attach his signature, and it will be handed by City Clerk Henry Bailey to the official newspaper for publication, which has to be made before the new law is effective. It is probable that Friday is the last night the saloons can keep open after 12 o'clock, as they have to close at that hour anyhow Saturday night to prevent doing business on Sunday in violation of the Sabbath closing laws. By that time the law will be effective, therefore all the saloons have to close at midnight Monday.

HELD ON BRIBERY CHARGE

Lee Lung Is Committed to Grand Jury for Offering Policeman Money.

Chicago, June 19.—Lee Lung, arrested in a raid on an alleged gambling house with seven of his countrymen at 324 Clark street Sunday afternoon, was arraigned before Justice Prindiville yesterday morning, charged with attempting to bribe Detective Hall of the gambling denial. According to the detective Lung asked him to let the men go and tried to slip some bills into Hall's hand. Lung refused to make a statement through his interpreter and was held to the criminal court in bonds of $300. The inmates of the resort were discharged.

NO BOOZE

JUDGE SANERS CONTINUED RONDA CASE AFTER HEARING EVIDENCE.

Douglas Bryor and Frank James Were Each Fined $5 and Costs For Fighting.

Louis Ronda, colored, was arraigned before Judge Sanders in the police court yesterday morning on the charge of selling liquor without a license. After hearing part of the evidence the matter was continued over until today. He is the negro arrested Sunday in Maiden alley, having in his possession some glasses, a lot of mint, some sugar, but no whisky. It is claimed he was a "walking saloon" going over the city selling drinks to different people. The officers have yet failed to find the booze, though.

J. P. Farmer was fined $1 and costs for being drunk. Douglas Bryor and Frank James were fined $5 and costs each for engaging in a fight. The assessment was made upon recommendation of the prosecuting attorney.

ADMITS TRADE CONSPIRACY.

Third of Indicted Ohio Ice Firms Enters Plea of Guilty.

Toledo, O., June 19.—Henry Breining of the Daw Beede Ice company, indicted by the grand jury for conspiracy in restraint of trade, entered a plea of guilty yesterday. Breining's trial was to begin today. This is the third ice company to plead guilty under the antitrust law.

RUSSIAN GOVERNMENT IS PREPARED FOR THE STRIKE EXPECTED TODAY

St. Petersburg, June 19.—The government has made the most elaborate preparations to meet the strike movement. Military trains are held in readiness at all the stations between St. Petersburg and Moscow. The masons and stone-cutters joined the bakers in the strike today and the butchers will follow their example tomorrow. The prices of bread and meat have been doubled.

Fresh strikes are reported at Kaluga, Kremenchug, Zhitomir, Volks and Usting Veliki, but the success of the attempt to precipitate a general strike is by no means assured. The Novoe Vremya, however, reports that the engineers of the Moscow railroad have agreed not to take out their locomotives tomorrow. The news from Kronstadt continues disquieting. The troops sent to the island are camping outside the city. The Twentieth Century, formerly the Russ, says the situation is so dangerous that the breach blocks have been removed from the guns of the warships in the harbor.

WAS FAILURE.

Home Coming Day Seemed to Prove Uninteresting to Anyone.

Sorry to state, the "Home Coming Day" for Paducah at Wallace park yesterday was a failure and the promoters were disappointed that it did not materialize, as they worked hard, but the support was lacking. There were only about twenty farmers there, coming in to hear Mr. Lancaster of Jackson, Tenn., deliver his talk on county roads, and Mr. Joel Fort speak on the tobacco interests. The rain drove this group under the chautauqua tent, where Mr. Lancaster started to speak to them, but suddenly took ill and had to be taken away in an ambulance. The handful more then dispersed.

REMARKABLE SCENE AT THE CHAUTAUQUA TENT YESTERDAY

COL. HAM, DURING LECTURE ON "OLD TIMES IN DIXIE" WAS SO OVERCOME BY EMOTION THAT HE NEARLY BROKE DOWN, TEARS STREAMING FROM HIS EYES—THE AUDIENCE SO DEEPLY MOVED THAT THEY PRESSED ABOUT THE PLATFORM EAGER TO GRASP HIS HAND.

Nowhere but in the sunny Southland could such a scene be witnessed as that of yesterday afternoon immediately following the lecture, "Old Times in Dixie," by Col. H. W. J. Ham.

A stranger, happening to enter the big tent at the chautauqua grounds at the close of the lecture, would have thought he had struck an old-fashioned Methodist camp-meeting.

The southern people are noted for their warm-heartedness and impulsiveness, and Col. Ham stirred their hearts to the core as he so graphically depicted the "old times."

He so vividly described the old plantation at eventide, the scenes and incidents, that his auditors could see the old manor house, its wide verandas with tall, white columns, the old, white-headed master, sitting in his easy chair with the ingredients of the southern drink, mint julep, by his side; hear the jingle of trace-chains and the song of the darkies coming from their work, and later, the thrum of the banjo in the quarters, the cricket in the grass, the "pot-rack" of the guinea fowl, the call of the whippoorwill and even the lonely hoot of the owl in the dark woods.

No man living can excel Col. Ham in the imitation of the true, old-time negro, nor can the highest priced minstrel performer sing the old negro songs as true to the negro dialect and with that peculiar soft, musical blending of the words.

The colonel remarked, before singing any of the old negro melodies, that he had been raised on a southern plantation and had never heard a negro sing "rag time," nor a true southern lady or gentleman call a negro a "coon."

When he sang the old song "I'm Gwine Back to Dixie," he not only greatly affected the audience but was himself so deeply moved by the words, music and memories engendered that genuine tears rolled down his cheeks and he finally broke down turned his back and vigorously applied his handkerchief to his eyes, while his shoulders heaved with sobs—it was not acting, but genuine emotion. There were many tear-dimmed eyes in the audience and when, at the conclusion of the lecture, Mr. Shaw arose, and, saying he was raised a Methodist, believed in hand-shaking, and was going to declare a ten-minute intermission to give people a chance to meet the colonel, the people literally flocked toward the platform.

Old men, with tears flowing freely, grasped his hands with words of thanks and appreciation for the words uttered in the lecture. The ladies, old and young—old eyes and young, bright eyes, dewy with tears—pressed about him, and it really looked more like a "love feast" than an audience at a paid attraction.

Col. Ham delivered his famous lecture, "The Snollygoster in Politics" in the evening.

The lecture was without doubt recognized as one of the most highly entertaining and thoroughly enlightening addresses ever delivered to a Paducah audience. Despite the rain and muddy grounds at least 1,200 people were not prevented from braving the prospective storm and chilly atmosphere to hear him make the talk which was postponed from the evening before, on account of rain.

Wallace Bruce Ambury—"filled in" with a reading, while the Lady Washington quartet gave a most interesting concert before the colonel arose to speak.

When he stepped to the front of the platform he was greeted with an outburst of applause that resounded through the surrounding woods like the rumble of a thunderstorm. He immediately proceeded to enter upon his subject, "The Snollygoster." He gave a very graphic explanation at the outset as to what a "Snollygoster" was and showed he thoroughly understood his subject, which he proved to be deceitful, suave, pie-hunting and office-seeking politician who works every class for their votes and support, deceives them until he is in office, and then gives them the "merry ha ha" up his sleeve, while artfully dodging every issue.

GOV. PATTISON DEAD.

Chief Executive of Ohio Passes Away After Months of Illness.

Cincinnati, June 19.—John M. Pattison, governor of Ohio, died at his home in Milford, a suburb of this city, yesterday afternoon. He passed a good night and there was no report of any serious change during the day. During the afternoon the news from his home was considered favorable, and the announcement of death came without warning.

Successor Sworn In.

Eaton, O., June 19.—The oath of office was administered to Acting Gov. Andrew L. Harris here last night by Judge Fisher of the common pleas bench.

TO HEAR ADDRESS

JAMES T. WALBERT CAMP GOES OUT TODAY TO HEAR MR. LAMAR.

He Delivers a Talk Upon "Dixie Before The War," and It Is Highly Entertaining.

Last evening at the meeting of James T. Walbert camp of Confederate veterans it was decided that this afternoon at 2 o'clock all the old soldiers of this city meet at Wallace park for purpose of hearing the lecture to be delivered at 2:30 o'clock by A. W. Lamar, upon "Dixie Before The War." The camp members voted that Commander James Koger issue an order, directing all the veterans to be present, as Mr. Lamar is one of the greatest talkers of the present day and has spoken to multitudes over the South upon this interesting subject, which carries the listener over the Southern states before the great conflict that brought on so many bloody battles. Addresses will be made by others at the grounds this afternoon in the park, and many old soldiers will be present.

The veterans had a number of other matters before them last evening, but none were of especial public importance.

OLD SONGS PLAYED OFTEN

Louisville, Ky., June 19.—It is estimated that during the five days of the homecoming exercises Foster's "Old Kentucky Home" and "Swanee River" were played and sung no less than 6,792 times.

BROOKS FINED $50 BY COURT

MILTON BROOKS, COLORED, SOAKED THAT SUM FOR RESISTING OFFICER.

THREATENED TO KILL CONSTABLE SEARS

JOHN J. BLEICH FILED SCHEDULE OF LIABILITIES AND ASSETS WITH THE COUNTY CLERK.

B. F. Sears Resigned As Constable in Second District and Is Selected Deputy in the Fifth.

Milton Brooks, colored, has been fined $50 and costs by Justice Charles Emery in the latter's magisterial court, the penalty being agreed upon by Brooks without trial. He paid up and was released.

Brooks was punished in this manner for resisting Constable Sears one day last week when the latter went to the negro's house to attach Brooks' bicycle in a suit filed for a $3 debt against the dandy by Fred Schiffman, the plumbing contractor. When the constable started to take possession of the bicycle, Brooks became so enraged that he got a shotgun and threatened to kill the officer if he took the bike. The constable attached the wheel to satisfy Schiffman's debt, and then to avoid trouble left the wheel with Brooks, who was immediately arrested and now fined for resisting and threatening the officer.

Resigned and Named Deputy.

B. F. Sears, constable for the second magisterial district, yesterday resigned his position and was selected deputy to Constable J. J. Lane of the fifth district. The appointment was made by Judge Lightfoot in the county court. He chose D. F. Horton, of Kentucky avenue near Fourth street, as the constable for the second district.

Bleich Assignment.

Yesterday Judge Lightfoot selected J. L. Wanner, D. B. Sutton and Joseph Petter as appraisers to value the stock of John J. Bleich, the jeweler, who made an assignment. The schedule of assets and liabilities was filed, showing outstanding liabilities of $945 and assets of $1,463. These are less the amounts in dispute between Proprietor Bleich and his son-in-law, Jeweler J. D. Sowers who has been in charge of the business for some months.

Fined For Fighting.

J. S. White was yesterday fined $8 by Justice Charles Emery on the charge of striking a man named Kelley during one of the public dances at Wallace park last week.

Juvenile Court.

Judge Lightfoot has returned from spending about a week at Cress Springs, Ill., and feels much better as result of his rest and sojourn. Yesterday he took up the cases against Maple Smith, colored, and Frank Waggoner, white, both small boys of tender years, who are the first in the juvenile court recently established. The judge continued the cases over for a few days before deciding what to do with the lads, the Smith boy being charged with stealing Dr. Bradley's horse from the lot on West Broadway and starting through the country, when he was taken charge of at Maxon's Mill by Mr. Lee Walters who brought Smith and the animal back. Waggoner is charged with stealing a pair of shoes from Michelson, the South Second street merchant.

The new "juvenile court" law says children shall not be confined in jail, but Judge Lightfoot construes this to mean that they can be kept in the county jail pending trial, inasmuch as this county has no detention ward or like institution for their incarceration.

Mrs. David Wright has gone to Little Rock, Ark., to visit her daughter, Mrs. Jettie McDaniel. Mr. George Bondurant goes up to Princeton this morning for a few days' visit.

WHEN MAYOR WAS TACKLED DEAL WENT AGAINST THE WRONG ARTICLE

Yesterday Mayor Yeiser ordered Chief James Collins to get a warrant against Prof. William Deal, charging the latter with obstructing the public street by building a bandstand at the Broadway end of the city market on Second street. The chief started to have the document issued but finding that at that moment Deal was having the stand torn down, decided to be lenient with the professor and not have him fined for blockading the thoroughfare in this unauthorized manner, the stand having been on that corner for over a week.

Mayor Yeiser yesterday said they had been unusually lenient with Deal in this instance, as they let the bandstand remain standing for one entire week before giving the order for the warrant to be issued, and that he could be fined now, but that the authorities were not inclined to be unreasonable. The mayor continued that Deal came to see him some days ago about the stand being up, and that he, the mayor, told him it was against the law, and should come down as it blockaded hundreds of people who go to the public market to make their purchases daily. The mayor said he tried to reason with the professor, but that the latter acted in a very objectionable manner, and finally when Deal's bullying methods reached that point where patience ceased to be a virtue with the mayor, the latter, in no unmistakable terms, told Deal that it looked like the professor was bound to have trouble about the stand, and that if that was true that Deal did not have to go any further than the mayor's office to get all the trouble he wanted. Seeing by this determined stand of the mayor after the latter had tried every way to point out matters properly, Deal quieted down, realizing that his foolishness would not be tolerated by Mayor Yeiser who is the last man in the world to get into trouble, but knows when he has gotten enough of the tactics of some people.

G. O. P. IS FIFTY YEARS OLD

Delegates Gathering at Philadelphia From All Parts of the Union.

Philadelphia, June 18.—An informal celebration of the fiftieth annual anniversary of the republican party began Saturday when several hundred delegates marched in the rain to the historic Musical Fund hall where the first national republican convention nominated John C. Fremont for president.

From Arkansas came a delegation of forty men. The same train brought men from Missouri, Texas and Colorado. Delegations also arrived from Iowa, Ohio and California, and other western delegates will arrive tomorrow.

Among the distinguished and old-time republicans were General D. B. Cowan, of Cincinnati, secretary of the convention. Republicans of national prominence who participated in the celebration are: Secretary of the Treasury Shaw, Speaker Cannon, Senator Beveridge, Postmaster General Cortelyou, General Fred Grant and Linn M. Bruce, of New York. The opening ceremony at Musical Fund hall Sunday was in memorial for Abraham Lincoln.

Miss Myrtle Ryan and Mr. Alonzo Williams, of this city, went to Metropolis yesterday and married. Lieut. Claude Ledgewood, wife and son, of Knoxville, Tenn., are visiting the family of Mr. J. A. Konetzka, the jeweler.

TO SAVE WOMAN

STRONG FIGHT BEING PUT UP FOR LIFE OF MRS.
MEYERS.

Several Hundred Paducahans Sign
a Petition That Goes to Governor Folk Monday.

The Star-Chronicle, of St. Louis, has taken up the fight for the life of Mrs. Aggie Meyers, who is sentenced to hang at Jefferson City, Mo., the 29th instant, for killing her husband two years ago at Kansas City. It is thought the paper will succeed in getting Governor Joseph Folk to commute the punishment to life imprisonment at least.

The issue of the Star-Chronicle which reached here yesterday morning published a petition which is being gotten up over the country to be forwarded to Gov. Folk, asking for the commutation of Mrs. Meyers' death penalty. Mr. C. W. Morrison, the commission merchant of Second street, clipped out the copy of petition, and pasted it upon a piece of paper, yesterday went around and secured several hundred signatures to the document, which will be forwarded the Star-Chronicle.

The paper will next Monday send their delegation to Jefferson City with similar petitions gotten up the country over. The documents will be presented Governor Folk and the change of sentence urged by the newspaper and its friends.

Telegraphic dispatches from the Missouri capitol yesterday said that Governor Folk had gone to Indiana to remain until the last of this week and when he returns would probably grant a thirty or sixty days' respite to the condemned woman in order that he could decide whether to let her hang or be sent to prison for life.

Mr. Morrison yesterday experienced no trouble whatever in getting everybody he approached to sign the petition.

The press telegrams of yesterday announced that the Missouri supreme court had refused a rehearing to Mrs. Meyers, whose case is being bitterly fought and is attracting attention the country over.

REAR ADMIRAL IN NASHVILLE

Comes to Attend the Marriage of His Son to Miss Anna Parkes.

An interesting personage reached Nashville Saturday evening, says the Nashville Banner, the gentleman in question being Rear Admiral J. U. B. Bleeker, late of the United States navy. Admiral Bleeker is in the city to attend the marriage of his son to Miss Anna Parkes of 1718 West End avenue, but will visit Paducah, Ky., for a few days and return in time for that event. His son is engaged in business in Paducah and the admiral and his wife, who is also here, will visit him there for a short while.

Admiral Bleeker has been in the navy for over forty years and retired only about one year ago. He is a gentleman of decidedly pleasing address and though he attained the highest position possible in his calling, is most gracious in his manner and not of that gruffly nature sometimes noticeable in those accustomed to command.

Upon his arrival in Nashville about 8:30 Saturday night, he was taken to the home of Mr. Hamilton Parks on West End avenue. Between the time of his arrival and the supper hour the admiral very courteously consented to a brief interview with a Banner reporter and clearly demonstrated to the latter that travel and an empty stomach could not in the least affect his cordial manner and good humor. During his forty odd years of service Admiral Bleeker has visited almost every port at which Uncle Sam's big men-of-war touch and his experience is world wide. His impression of this city could not be obtained as he had been in it only a few minutes and did not reach here until after dark. In regard to the navy and the coast defenses the admiral was somewhat reticent though evidently believing in their efficiency. Since his retirement he has not been actively connected with naval matters and did not consider himself in a position to give his views on that subject.

Just previous to the Spanish-American war he was the victim of an unfortunate accident and during that time was forced to remain inactive on account of a broken arm. This was a source of sincere regret to the admiral who, though not of a blood-thirsty nature, shows that he would not have been averse to a little go with the Spaniards.

He left Athens just a short while before the opening of the Olympic games recently held there and in speaking of them said that the games indulged in as preliminaries or for the purpose of training the Greeks were attended by thousands of people and were of almost as much interest to the Greeks as are the contests themselves. The twenty-five mile marathon race was witnessed by as many as 25,000 people. Admiral Bleeker's retirement from active service was evidently not on account of any physical ability to attend to his duties as ranking officer. He is in the best of health and apparently able to render yet many years of valuable service to the United States should he be called upon to do so.

INJUNCTION FILED AGAINST AUDITOR HAGER
Attorneys Prevent Payment of Money for the State Normal Schools.

Frankfort, Ky., June 18.—Attorneys Rhorer, Ainsworth and Dawson Saturday filed a suit of injunction before Circuit Judge Stout to prevent Auditor Hager from paying over the money recently appropriated by the state legislature for the benefit of the two state normal schools. The schools are located at Richmond and Bowling Green, and their regents have employed attorneys McQuinn and Brown to attend to their side of the case. The injunction is made returnable next Thursday, when the case will be argued before Judge Stout. Mr. Dawson, the junior member of the firm which filed the suit, was a member of the legislature which appropriated the money and was one of those who voted for it. A few weeks ago he applied for the position of secretary to the boards governing the two schools, but another man was elected. Dawson is a graduate of State College and was sent to the legislature from Logan county. One of the regents of the school when seen last night said that the board of regents had been expecting such a move for some time and were fully prepared to fight it out.

GOOD ROADS

MOVEMENT FOR BETTER
HIGHWAYS IN M'CRACKEN COUNTY.

Attracting Attention of People in Graves and Other Counties.

Good roads is now the absorbing question among the people from one end of the county to the other, says the Mayfield Messenger:

Every county in the state is beginning to give public roads special attention.

We notice that the county of McCracken is spending thousands of dollars on their public roads and she is more determined than ever to give to her people in all parts of the county the very best public highways.

The latest move on her part is to try an experiment on one mile of gravel road by taring it, and if the experiment proves satisfactory an effort will be made to tar all the gravel-roads in the county.

At present there are 110 miles of gravelled roads in McCracken and 50 more will be built this year. Last year 48 miles off road were gravelled. The total mileage of roads in McCracken is 350, and within five years it is expected that two-thirds will be improved with gravel. The tar coat will be added if the experiment proves successful.

People have been paying taxes without good roads until they are tired of it, and now since gravel roads are an absolute necessity they propose to have them, or know the reason why.

Our farmers are enjoying the pleasure and convenience of free mail delivery; they are also being blessed with local telephone lines reaching out all over the country, but the crying need is good and better public roads.

They pay a rate of taxation that entitles them to better roads and they will never rest easy until they get them.

If the people don't vote to bond the county they will not have gravel roads for the next 25 years.

Let some action be taken to give to our people better roads.

HAVE GONE WEST

MESSRS. OLIVER AND GRAHAM
WENT TO DENVER YES-TERDAY.

After a Several Weeks' Stay Hon.
Mike Oliver Will Return Here
Wind Up Business.

Yesterday Attorney Mike and George Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Graham left for Denver, Colo., to join Mrs. George Oliver, and then proceed to Albuquerque, New Mexico, where they remain until they finally decide where they will settle. Mr. Mike Oliver will return sometime next month.

The health of Mrs. George Oliver has been poor and last year she went to Denver and Western cities, where she has improved greatly. Mr. Graham is a brother-in-law of Mr. George Oliver, and also clerk in the local postoffice. His health is bad, and accompanied by his wife, he goes West also. He may locate, but as to that has not fully decided, not having resigned his place in the postoffice here, but has secured a thirty day leave of absence.

While out West the Messrs. Oliver will decide where they will finally locate. Mr. George and wife will remain, while Mr. Mike Oliver comes back here next month to commence winding up his business in Paducah and Marshall county. Their local office here is being looked after by their efficient stenographer, Miss Ruth Harper, until Hon. Mike Oliver returns.

The attorneys and Mr. Graham are among the city's best known and sterling men, and the community suffers quite a loss by their departure, but all wish for them the best in their new home.

DEED TRAVELS

A LONG DISTANCE

Is Sent to Philippine Islands and

Travels 25,000 Miles in Six Months Time.

County Clerk Will T. Mills received a deed for filing Tuesday morning that had traveled a distance equal to a trip around the world.

It was a deed executed by Joseph Dunbar, a soldier in the Philippine Islands, conveying a third interest in a tract of land on the Pleasant Valley road to D. W. Dunbar. The deed was made out in the county clerk's office here on Dec. 23, 1905. From here it was sent to Dunbar in the Philippines for acknowledgment, which was made before a Spanish notary public, who has a signature that looks like a Chinese puzzle. After receiving the endorsement of the supreme court of the Philippines it was returned to the clerk's office here to be filed.

The deed has been traveling almost six months and has gone a distance of 25,000 miles.—Madisonville Hustler.

But Hexamethylentetramin Does

New York, June 19.—Hexamethylentetramin does not contain alcohol. Judge Platt, in the United States circuit court, has decided this for the benefit of an importer. The question caused the customs authorities a good deal of trouble. They said they did not know just what the stuff was. It comes from Germany.

Collector Stranahan was convinced that hexamethylentetramin contained alcohol, and he demanded duty on the basis of 55 cents a pound. Hexamethylentetramin is known also as urotropine, aminoforn, uritone and formin.

The Telephone Fight at Memphis.
Memphis is experiencing the same trouble with the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company that Paducah is now undergoing with the East Tennessee Telephone company.
The telephone committee of the municipal council held a meeting with the local representatives of that company Monday, and elsewhere in this issue of The Register is published the report of the proceedings from the Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

That city is demanding that the Cumberland company show the contract or its right to do business in Memphis. Its local attorney claims that the company has a contract, but a careful search of the city records from 1878 to date fails to reveal any contract or franchise from the city, and it insists on the contract being produced.

In the discussion of the matter it was brought to light that in Nashville, the home of the company, it was found that no grant had been given it to do business in that city, and the company was forced to take a franchise and in addition thereto to pay the city 5 per cent of its gross receipts for the use of the streets.
In Evansville, Ind., a similar condition existed and after a long fight with the city the telephone company was forced to take a franchise and pay 3 per cent of its gross earnings to the city, besides the sum of $12,300 for the four years back in which the litigation occurred.

At Memphis the vice-mayor very plainly told the company that it would have to submit to the conditions laid down by the city or it would be ousted. The identical conditions prevail in Paducah, and all the city has to do is to fight it out in the courts and become the master of the situation. The city intends to stand pat, but the corporation organ and one or two members of the general council are urging the city to surrender. The city of Paducah should fight it out if it takes ten years and when it has been decided in its favor, as it will be, it should make that company pay for every dollar of expense incurred and a bonus for the use of the streets.

The Cumberland company was the one that fought the collection of a pole rental by Memphis, and finally the federal court decided that a city has the power to charge and collect a pole rental from every company using poles on the streets. That decision netted Memphis $500,000 in back rentals, and will give it millions in the years to come. These corporations know how much is involved in the public getting a square deal, and for that reason they can afford to spend thousands of dollars in subsidizing newspapers and hiring sharp and unscrupulous lawyers to aid in their fights against the people.

The people of Paducah own the streets and they have the right and power to dictate the terms upon which the streets may be used by public utility companies. A city that is too cowardly to stand up for its rights deserves to be gouged by the corporations.

Birds of a Feather.

It is not surprising to see a newspaper open its columns to people of questionable character to gratify their mutual malice, when it is a fact that the aforesaid newspaper furnished a lot of bogus ballots in a political contest, its manager immediately left the city, on a trip for his health, and the boy on whom was imposed the task of setting up and printing the dirty job was spirited out of the city and furnished funds with which to keep out of reach during the investigation. If the grand jury had done its duty somebody would have been indicted for the crime. We might also remark, in passing, that the name of one of its chief officers is involved in rumors of a scandalous nature.

Birds of a feather, flock together.

Election Reform.

The demand for fair and honest elections will not down. The people are so sick and tired of frauds in elections that they refuse to be longer controlled by party ties. Men who attain office by thieving and other corrupt methods will not make honest officials. The respectable element of the Tennessee press is leading the fight for reform in the Volunteer state. The Nashville Banner in discussing the subject says:
"When the spirit of reform is making itself felt in so many varied demands and endeavors, it is important that a fundamental reform, a basic safeguard to the integrity of our institutions, political, social and commercial, should be pressed upon public attention and exemplified in practice. That is the reform which will insure fair and honest elections.
Election reform, to be made effective, must begin with each voting precinct, and extend to the district, the county and the state. To have a perfectly fair and honest election in the state there must be a fair and honest election at every voting place in the state. If fair elections be held in all the districts and counties
except in one district or county, where frauds are perpetuated, the election will be tainted."

"The people of one district or county who hold a true and honest election are in a position to demand, and should demand, that every other district and county be likewise honest and fair in the holding of elections. In Tennessee the elections have, we believe, been generally fair but there has been no election in the state in which there has not been the charge of well-grounded suspicion of unfairness in some counties.
Probably there are few counties that are in a position to boast of political righteousness, but it were idle to deny that some counties in the state have especially unsavory reputations. Without intending in-vidious distinction, it may be said that Shelby county is one county upon which the people of the state look with suspicious question in election times. That there is basis for this suspicion it is only necessary to take the deliverances of the Memphis press to prove."

"The Commercial-Appeal says Democratic voters are heartily disgusted with the election methods that have obtained in Shelby county and demand a radical reform. So say the people of the state. Let us have fair elections in Shelby county and in every other county. Let no precaution, no safeguard be omitted at any voting precinct to insure an honest citizen in Tennessee, of whatever party, have a voice and an influence against election frauds, so that a powerful sentiment shall prevail that will secure fair dealing and compel the severest punishment of any who perpetrates a crime against a free and honest franchise."

All over the country the cry is going up for honest elections, but we can never have them as long as the ballots are tampered with and the perpetrators are suffered to go scot free. The law brands ballot box stuffers and those who furnish bogus ballots as criminals, and if a few of that gentry are sent to the penitentiary we will have honest elections.
Men who seek to overthrow the ballot are enemies to the republic, and have no valid claims to respectability and decency.

According to the dispatches of yesterday, Judge Platt, in the United States circuit court at New York decided that there is no alcohol in "Hexamethylentetramin"—(it took so long to spell that word, which now that it is in type, looks like a
"pi" line, that we have forgotten what we started to say, but at any rate, we believe what the judge said.
The man that invented that word must have been suffering from an overdose of alcohol himself.)

The courts of the country are reaching out for the men higher up who are responsible for the infractions of the law. The same holds good when men use others as tools to lie about and malign those whom they desire to injure.

The hypocrites, and curs who pose as men of respectability are the ones to expose.

It frequently occurs that a man's family or his connections are a shield for his misdeeds and acts of a most reprehensible character, and often facts are in possession of men whom the culprits would not for one moment suppose they would keep them from the public. We have known of cases where a man's enemies have been more considerate of his family
than the man himself.

The Sun commends the lower board for its act Monday night in requesting the board of public works to have the gutters flushed at Eleventh and Broadway. The street inspector has been doing that very thing twice a week for five weeks past.

Kill Electric Light Ordinance, Telephone Ordinance, Put Thieves in Council on Notice.

(Chicago Examiner.)

The question before the people of Chicago now is whether the corporations are going to be permitted to steal every franchise the city has.

The majority of the members of the city council are hopelessly corrupt.
They are creatures of the privilege seeking corporations and are in the council, not as representatives of the people, but as mere agents of these franchise grabbing concerns.

This electric light ordinance that was put through the other day should not only be vetoed but it should be vetoed in such a manner that the fascals who passed it will not attempt to pass it again by a two-thirds vote.

This ordinance puts the city of Chicago at the mercy of an electric light monopoly for fifty years. The rate to be charged for light under the new ordinance is exorbitantly high, and the city itself cannot make any effort towards a reduction of the prices for five years.

The ordinance will make the capital stock of the electric light company worth at least $50,000,000.

The telephone company, seeing the good fortune of the electric light corporation, thought that this was a good time to go forward.

You know how exorbitant telephone tolls are in Chicago. The telephone is an article of commercial necessity, but in Chicago it is a luxury.

We tell you that under this new telephone ordinance there is no material reduction of rates for the user.
There is no promise of a better service. You let this telephone ordinance go through and in five calls out of ten someone in a falsetto voice will answer you, "line busy."

Why have those men who were so keen until a few days ago to stop the telephone robbery halted in their good work? Have they permitted themselves to be bluffed by the telephone monopoly?

The electric light people had easy sailing in the council. Nobody paid any attention to what was being done. The trust newspapers of Chicago were silent as usual. Before the free newspapers got around to the subject the ordinance was passed. It is now before Mayor Dunne. The telephone people got along almost equally as fast.

You know that the traction companies, which really ought to be in the hands of a corner, are reforming and readjusting things. Their shrewd attorneys are telling the council committees what to do. They ought to be dead, but they act
as if the people of Chicago are dead.

Unless you are very careful you will wake up some morning and find that you have turned over every street in Chicago to the transportation companies for the next twenty years.

The elevated railroads propose to consolidate. And they will consolidate, if they can help it, without destroying this loop which congests all the retail commerce of Chicago into a small space and prevents other business from starting in this city. Of course, the council will be glad to help this along for a consideration.

The gas ordinance was grafted through the council and if state's attorney's office would get busy it could find out who got the graft.

The gas, traction, electricity, telephone and the street car people have formed a combination.

Each controls certain members of the council and they have pooled their issues and pooled their council members.

Before you know what has come to pass, you will find that you are in the grip of a telephone monopoly, an electric light monopoly, a gas monopoly, and a street car monopoly.

There never was a time when a city council was so slavish to corporate interests as is the present council.

Mayor Dunne should smash this electric light ordinance and should serve notice that this telephone ordinance cannot pass.

And he should smash it in such a way that the thieves in the council would become uneasy. And if he thinks there is any danger that the council will pass these ordinances over his veto he should call upon the people of Chicago to get together in mass-meeting and see to it that this council does not sell them out, body and soul, to the monopolies.

Kill the electric light ordinance.
Kill the telephone ordinance.
Watch the traction ordinance,
watch the elevated road consolidation ordinance.

Watch this council—it is the worst body that has cursed Chicago within twenty-five years.

Ice Trust Took the Hint.

(Pittsburg Dispatch.)

It is noticeable that when the Toledo grand jury got after the ice trust of that locality the latter speedily discovered that last winter's ice crop was not a failure and reduced the price. The hint was not lost on the ice trust and should not be lost on other grand juries.

REMARKABLE SCENE AT CHAUTAUQUA TENT

that comes his way until he sees he is on the winning side.

The colonel commenced talking shortly before 9 o'clock and kept his auditors in a continual state of enjoyment and interest for one and a half hours. There was not a moment when the interest was lost, and he carried his hearers from the ridiculous and ludicrous to the sublime.
He strongly advised the good people to rise en masse and throw the "snollygoster" to the rear, declaring that until this is done honesty will not prevail in politics.

This morning at 7:45, the colonel leaves for his home in Gainesville, Ga. He has won a place in the hearts of Paducah people that will always assure him of a warm welcome.

All of the numbers of the program were carried out with the exception of the lecture on good roads by Sam C. Lancaster, who was taken suddenly ill at the grounds in the afternoon and was conveyed to the Riverside hospital in the ambulance.

Miss Ruth Hemenway, who spoke on "The Rise of the Historic Novel," has a fine appearance, a strong, yet sweet voice that penetrated to the utmost corner of the tent. She handled the subject both learnedly and interestingly, and her auditors were well pleased.

The following is the program for today:

8:30—Children's Athletics, Prof. U.
G. Fletcher.
9:30—Lecture, "Fraud's of Spiritualism," Dr. Stanley L. Krebs.
2:30—"Dixie Before the War," Dr.
A. W. Lamar.
4:00—Lecture-Recital, "The Eternal Feminine," Miss Hemenway.
7:30—Reading, Wallace Bruce Am-sbury.
8:00—"Nicholas Nickleby," Mr. William S. Battis.

Chautauqua Note.

Dr. A. W. Lamar will arrive this morning from Nashville, Tenn., and give his lecture this afternoon on the subject being "Dixie Before the War." He then goes back home, this being his only appearance here.

Mr. William S. Battis arrived last evening from Chicago and was upon the grounds last night greeting everybody, but does not make his initial appearance until tonight at 8 o'clock when he gives a fine reading on
"Nicholas Nickleby."

This morning the Lady Washington quartette leaves for Henderson, Ky., where they appear at the chautauqua now going on there. They have been here for five days and their part in the program proved to be features never failing in interest and enjoyment.

The health talks of Prof. Fletcher are gathering in interest, as yesterday when he appeared for the second time, he had a large crowd of children there to be instructed in physical culture. The little ones are taking great interest and coming out in large numbers.

One of the most beneficial numbers on the program are the readings by Miss Hemenway, who is a refined, cultured and highly educated lady. She is recognized as one of the leading attractions at the grounds, and will be here until Saturday.

Everyone is anxiously looking forward to the arrival of Prof. W. B.
Patty, who comes tomorrow morning and gives his initial lecture in the evening. He talks on wireless telegraphy, liquid air, radium and other subjects, that are engaging the scientific students the world over.

—Yesterday there was shipped to Bowling Green, Ky., for burial, the remains of Mrs. Cora E. Williams, aged 31 years who died the night before at 626 South Tenth street, of stomach trouble. She was the wife of Mr. S. T. Williams, employe of
I. C. shops.

Memphis Telephone Fight Same As That At Paducah

CITY OF MEMPHIS CLAIMS THAT CUMBERLAND TELE-PHONE COMPANY HAS NO RANCHISE OR RIGHT TO DO BUSINESS IN THAT CITY, AND IT MUST EITHER GET FRANCHISE OR QUIT BUSINESS THERE.

All a special meeting of the telephone committee, of which John T.
Walsh is chairman, says the Memphis Commercial Appeal of yesterday, a broadside was fired into the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company. The meeting lasted nearly an hour. It resulted in a demand offered by Dr. Henning, and unanimously adopted, that the company present, first, its contract with the city; second, a schedule of impartial rates, and finally, that the company bind itself to give to the people of Memphis a better service.

There were present, in addition to Vice-Mayor Walsh and Commissioners Thomas Bruce and Dr. B. G.
Henning, Maj. E. E. Wright, counsel; C. T. Derrickson, local superintendent, and Foster Hume, division superintendent of the Cumberland
Telephone and Telegraph Company; Lee Bartells, representing City Attorney Jackson, and a number of other interested spectators.

From the very outset it was plain to see that the committee intended to exact every provision looking to the improvement of the local service and to an adjudication of rates. It was also equally apparent that Maj.
E. E. Wright, for the company, was anxious to meet the committee on the question of rates and the matter of improvement. But here the similarity of purpose diverged.

In calling the meeting to order
Mr. Walsh stated that he had been advised that there had been a discrimination on the part of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company in rates charged subscribers for Memphis telephones. He added that he had looked into the matter and had received various communications upon the subject. He passed to Acting Secretary George L. Harris a number of communications, which were read. The following figures show the existing rates
in Memphis and other cities:

For Memphis the table of charges
is as follows:

Business, direct line $7.50 per month; business, four-party line $4 per month; residence, four-party line $2.50 per month. Discount of 50 cents per month if paid quarterly in advance.

At Clarksville, Tenn., the rates are:

Business, direct, $3.50 per month;
business, party line, $2.50 per month;
residence, $1.50 per month; extension sets, 50 cents per month. No discount allowed.

At Birmingham, Ala., these rates prevail:

Business, direct, $4 per month;
residence, direct, $3 per month; residence, party line, $2 per month; extension sets, $1.50 per month. No discount is allowed at Birmingham, but there are no party lines for business houses, all connections being direct.

At Nashville, Tenn., the headquarters of the Cumberland company, the following rates are effective:

Business, direct $5 per month;
residence, direct, $3 per month; extension sets, $1 per month. A discount of 30 per cent is allowed when bills are paid in advance.

Charges Discrimination.

Mr. Walsh added that he was convinced that there had been, and that there was being carried on at present an unfair discrimination in rates against Memphis.

"This is what we have called this meeting for," he explained. "I would like to hear from any representative of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company."

Maj. Wright replied that it was a question that he was very much interested in and his company was quite anxious to know what the committee desired. "We want to know what your wishes are in the matter.
Frankly, I do not quite understand what the meeting is for." He then explained the attitude of the company in being willing to expend its money at any time for the improvement of its system and to add to the service in this city.

What They Wanted.

Dr. Henning, who had listened with the closest attention, left no further doubt as to what the city
wanted. "We want first, Maj.
Wright, to see your contract with the city of Memphis, if you have one.
We want in the second place, an adjudication of rates protecting Memphis subscribers. This is what we want."

"We want also," interjected Mr.
Bruce, "a better service. I wish to say right here that I am a friend of the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph company and that I am a subscriber for thirteen telephones, all of them Cumberland phones, but I understand that the service of the opposition company is very much better."

This suggestion was accepted by Dr. Henning, who included it in the general demand. Superintendent Derrickson, in behalf of the company, explained that a great deal of money had already been expended and more was still being expended in the improvement of the local plant and that test cases showed each day that the answer to a call from the time of the removal of the receiver averaged five to six seconds. This was the average reached in 500 test calls every day on different lines and the longest delay seldom extended over 10 seconds. He also explained at length to the committee the operation of the company in its other departments. All of this discussion covered general lines, but the committee had been called to get at the heart of things and wanted to see the company's contract.

Major Wright sparred for wind in a diplomatic way. He said he was sure there would be no objection to showing this contract, but that this would have to be done by General Counsel Granberry, who was at present in Vicksburg. He also stated that he had exercised every endeavor to have him present, and would have him here on Wednesday.

"There is no use in having him here," objected Mr. Bruce, "unless he brings the contract with the city along, too. We want a look at that contract, Major Wright, if we have to resort to the courts to get it."

"I am sure," replied Maj. Wright,
"that there will be no difficulty whatever on this score, and I will say that I would willingly give you all the information I have in my possession only I am not the general counsel of the company, and I do not believe that I have the right to do so."

"You will not be offended, Maj.
Wright, if I ask you a plain, honest question?" began Dr. Henning, and paused. "Has your company any contract whatever with the city?"

"We think," replied Maj. Wright,
"that we have a very good contract with the city."

"And you can exhibit that contract here?" asked Mr. Walsh.

"That is for Mr. Granberry to say," replied Maj. Wright.

There was considerable sparring about this point. Maj. Wright urged that the company was willing to grant any reasonable concession and he could not see any advantage of exhibiting a contract.

Insist on Contract.
"We want to see this contract," replied Mr. Walsh, finally. "because if you have rights under them, we do not wish to do you a 'injury'—", and if you have no contract to see that you give to the people of Memphis
a cheaper rate than you are giving;
to see that you get a better service
and to force you to enter into a contract with the city of our making, or oust you from the city streets."

"If we have no rights, as you seem to infer," began Maj. Wright, "then you have the authority to institute a general procedure along such lines;
but that is another matter entirely and foreign to our discussion at present. You must realize that we have rights and have had them ever since 1878. We want to do what is right and I will try and arrange to have

MAYOR AGAINST LICENSE TAX

DOES NOT THINK IT EQUALIZES TAXATION BURDEN.

Thinks the Ad Valorem System Should Be Continued Here in This City.

Yesterday Mayor Yeiser said he did not intend attending any meeting to be held by the chief executives of second class cities of this state for the purpose of taking up the matter of the law enacted by the last state legislature permitting cities to substitute the license tax for the ad valorem tax. He said that he was against the substitution, believing that the present system of taxation to be the best for the general public.

In speaking of the license tax the mayor continued that he did not think it was the best for everybody, as it let only the business houses take advantage of the law, while the poor owner of a small house and lot had to continue paying upon the ad valorem basis. He does not advocate doing away with the ad valorem system for business houses, because there is too much opportunity and chance for the proprietors of big stocks to conceal the true valuation of their merchandise, and thereby thwart the municipality in its attempts to equalize the taxation burdens on the citizens. He thinks it is best to continue the old method which has been worked down to nearly a perfect basis and cannot be improved upon. He said the different stores conducting the same kind of business could not be classified and a certain license tax placed for each respective line of business, because some merchants carried thousands of dollars more stock than others in the same line, therefore, the inequitable nature of the license substitution would be entirely too apparent.

FATHER EXPIRED.

Mr. August Kerth Called to Evansville by Death of Parent.

Mr. August Kerth, the well known linotype operator and machinist of this city, left yesterday at noon for Evansville, where he was called by a message announcing the death of his father, Mr. Peter Kerth who passed away there Monday night, after a lingering illness of complications produced by advanced age.

The deceased was 82 years of age and had been in bad health for some months, his son here being called there several times by his critical condition. Besides his son here, three daughters survive, Mrs. Elmer Smith of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Ellmer Smith of Indianapolis, Ind., Mrs. Frank Pritchett and William Gentry of Evansville.

The deceased retired from active life some years ago on account of his advanced age, and was one of Evansville's best known men.

Little Rock, Ark., June 19.—J. B. Baremore, a farmer residing near Fort Smith, and his two children, Emma, aged 5 years and James, aged 18 months, died today in a hospital at Fort Smith of ptomaine poisoning. They had eaten bologna sausage.

The Welsh National Eisteddfod is the biggest open-air concert in the world. At least 20,000 people attend it every year.

PATROLMAN WAS FINED

THE COMMISSIONERS WERE NOT ALL PRESENT YESTERDAY.

Warrants Issued Against Quartette, Charging Them With Gambling—Police Business.

Mayor Yeiser issued a call for the police commissioners to meet yesterday afternoon at the city hall to take up an investigation of the difficulty between Patrolmen Ernest Hill and William Rogers of the police force. All the commissioners could not be there so no meeting was held, but afterwards a warrant was issued against Officer Rogers charging him with a breach of the peace, and he confessed to the charge. Judge Sanders will this morning enter up in the police court notation of whatever fine he will assess against the officer for using towards Patrolman Hill some pretty strong language.

Mayor Yeiser was asked if he would call the commissioners for any other date to take up the matter, and he said he had instructed Chief Collins of the force to follow up the matter and after the warrant was disposed of, if it developed the commissioners should take it up, he would assemble that body.

Gambling Charged.

Chief James Collins had some parties before the judge yesterday for investigation, desiring to find out something about gambling alleged to have been conducted in a room on Legal Row. The parties did not remember in what room the gambling was conducted, but gave the chief the names of John Breckenridge, Ruby Tyree, Will Stanford and Bob Stith, as the parties who were in the game. The chief then had warrants issued against this quartette who were arrested.

Negro Struck.
Dave Scriggs was arrested yesterday by Officer Hurley and Singery of the Fisherville boat, on the charge of striking a negro man during a controversy.

Taking Vacation.
Officer Lige Cross of the Broadway district is now taking his week's vacation allowed each policeman, and his beat down in the business portion of the city is being patrolled by Officer William Johnson, who was town to do this until the regular officer returned from his week off. That will end next Sunday.

Chicken Thieves.
Mrs. C. T. Thompson of West Jefferson street reported to the police yesterday that the night before thieves stole nine chickens from her yard, while several were taken from Mrs. Bennett's home that adjoins the other.

Mr. Farrington of 1103 Madison street, reports to the police that chicken thieves again visited his home and took the last pullet and old hen on the place.

concerns and providing for material reduction in rates for electric lighting. The vote was taken after one of the warmest debates heard on the council floor in months. It stood: Yeas, 38; nays, 31—or nine votes less than the necessary two-thirds vote to override the mayor's veto.

Korean Girls Must not Wed.

Thousands of the most beautiful maidens of Korea are languishing in spinsterhood owing to an edict of the government.

A year ago the Crown Prince became a widower, and he has now decided to remarry. Government officials throughout the country have been instructed to forward to Seoul the names and full descriptions of the most eligible maidens. Meanwhile, instructions have been issued that no young women of the better class shall be married until the Crown Prince has announced his choice.

The governors of Kyerkye, Chungchulla and Kyonsang disobeyed the edict and allowed their daughters to marry. Consequently they are in great disfavor at court and are to be severely punished.

The Cape Colony authorities have been petitioned to set apart a "poets' corner" in the Cathedral at Capetown.

"Skidoo" For the Shantyboaters--- Departure is Not At All Regretted

CITY AND COUNTY AUTHORITIES WOULD RATHER SEE THEM LEAVE THAN SECURE THE LICENSE OR FINES AGAINST THEM—WARRANTS WERE ISSUED AGAINST TWENTY-FIVE OF THEM, BUT ONLY TWO WERE ROUND-ED UP.

It seems that the warrants issued against shantyboaters on the whole-sale plan is having a better effect than hauling them before the courts for trial. This good effect is the scampering among the houseboat-men, who are pulling away from these shores and seeking other quarters to moor their boats. Justice Emery, who issued the warrants against the owners of shantyboats yesterday said that the departure of the accused is much more of a source of gratification to himself and the other authorities than if the shantyboaters were caught and hauled before the court on the charge, which is that of failing to pay the necessary state license of $5 which the commonwealth exacts from every owner who moors his boat to the banks of any river, creek or stream in this state.

The authorities arrested several shantyboaters who were made to pay their license. These few then gave the names of over 100 other houseboat owners who were notified to come in and pay their license, which they refused to do. Warrants were then issued against twenty-five of them, this batch to be followed with charges against the balance. These warrants were placed in the hands of Constable Shelton and he has been able to catch only two out of this entire number, the balance pushed their boats out into the river and floated to other places. This is more than satisfactory to the authorities, who would rather lose the license and fine money, than have the shantyboaters moored everywhere around the city and county.

Of course there are many very good people living in this manner, but this respectable contingent does not extend very far into the midst of the "shanty communities."

Warrants against all the others will now be issued, and the authorities hope it will have the same effect, that of causing the houseboat owners to pick up and leave.

Mr. Granberry before you at an early date."

"But, will he bring this contract," persisted Mr. Bruce. "We must see it. If he does not intend to offer it, we don't want to waste any time over another meeting."

Mr. Bartells Speaks.

There was some other general discussion along more pleasant lines when Attorney Lee Bartells asked to be heard, explaining at the same time that he represented Mr. Jackson, and that in behalf of certain clients he had looked very fully into the subject. He stated that he had, with the assistance of City Register Douglas, looked over the minutes of the city of Memphis since January, 1878, and had found no single word of evidence to show that the city had any such contract, or any contract whatever, with the Cumberland Telephone and Telegraph Company. He said that he had made this investigation very thoroughly, and to be absolutely certain, he had gone to John H. Watkins, who had prepared the Watkins Digest, and asked him what his impression was in regard to the matter, and had been informed that no such contract had ever been embodied in his digest, because he could find no such contract, and because he could never get a copy of any such contract from the company. Mr. Bartells stated further that he then communicated with Luke Lea of Nashville, whose father was a client of his. Mr. Lea, he added, had a similar litigation in Nashville, and had sent his transcript of certain proceedings in that city. The company had been required to present a copy of its contract, claiming to hold one when the city discovered that no such charter or contract existed. As a result a suit was instituted, which was subsequently compromised. The company was forced into a contract with the city, by which the rate matter is regulated in a way to protect subscribers, and the city receives for the use of its streets a bonus of 5 per cent of the gross earnings of the company. He also recited that the city of Evansville had demanded of the company to present its contract with the city, which resulted in the discovery that no contract existed, and that the city had also compelled the company to execute a contract with the city, securing the city for the use of its streets a bonus of 3 per cent of the gross earnings of the company, to be paid each year under the life of the contract, and liquidated damages in the sum of $12,300 for the use of its streets for four years prior to the making of the new contract, and in addition to this inserted a provision regulating rates and fixing a maximum rate of $5 and $3 for the use of one line business and residence phones, this rate to be maintained until the company can show 4,500 bona fide subscribers, when it will be allowed to increase its rates. Mr. Bartells made a very clear and distinct presentment of these facts, and concluded by offering his services to the city to assist in the prosecution and further investigation of the subject without cost.

The commissioners thanked him and seemed to be very much surprised at the new light which had been thrown on the matter.

Maj. Wright said he was not prepared to enter into any legal discussion covering the lines stated by Mr. Bartells, and would waive any answer to them at the present time. He did not agree that the real facts had been stated, but said that they were entirely irrelevant, and that he would wait the arrival of Mr. Granberry for a further discussion of the subject.

After this the committee adjourned to meet on Wednesday evening.

DISFIGURING SKIN HUMOR

Impossible to Get Employment, as Face and Body Were Covered With Itching Sores—Scratched Till Flesh Was Raw—Spent Hundreds of Dollars on Doctors and Hospitals and Grew Worse

CURED BY CUTICURA IN FIVE WEEKS

"Since the year 1894 I have been troubled with a very bad case of eczema which I have spent hundreds of dollars trying to cure, and I went to the hospital, but they failed to cure me and it was getting worse all the time. Five weeks ago my wife bought a box of Cuticura Ointment and one cake of Cuticura Soap, and I am pleased to say that I am now completely cured and well."

"It was impossible for me to get employment, as my face, head, and body were covered with it. The eczema first appeared on the top of my head, and it had worked all the way around down the back of my neck and around to my throat, down my body and around the hips. It itched so I would be obliged to scratch it, and the flesh was raw."

"I would first wash the affected parts with warm water and Cuticura Soap, and then apply Cuticura Ointment and let it remain on all night, and in the morning I would use Cuticura Soap. I am now all well, which all my friends can testify to, and I will be pleased to recommend the Cuticura Remedies to any and all persons who wish a speedy and permanent cure of skin diseases."

IRVING'S BAD MEMORY.

How He Once Introduced Mark Twain at a Banquet in London.

Among the many people entertained by Sir Henry Irving during his leasehold of the Lyceum was Mark Twain. Irving gave him a banquet in the greenroom after a performance one night, with a distinguished company present, says the Brooklyn Citizen. When Sir Irving arose to propose the guest's health, the humorist's name escaped him completely and the result was something like this, but the reader must imagine the high and nasal tones of the actor:

"Gentlemen—I rise to perform a very agreeable duty—a most important and pleasurable honor (mental aside: 'What is that name?') We have with us to-night as our guest the most distinguished of our compatriots from across the water (I'd give to-night's receipts if I could think who the devil he is)—a man whom you all know and love. (Ha! ha!)—a man whose genial humor, whose delicate satire has amused and entertained two hemispheres ('Drat my memory!')—a man whose name is a household word wherever the English language is spoken ('except to me!')—a man in a word who is the laughing link which binds England and America closer than any international treaty can do. I propose the health—of this man—I propose the health—of this man—I propose the health—of—(In a sudden burst of mnemonic discovery)—of Samuel Mark Twain!

Which is on a par with Sir Henry's memorable reference to a famous American comedian as "our little friend, Noto Goodwin."

WAS LOADED FOR WITCHES

Soldier of Ancient Date Always Used Silver Bullets to Shoot Them.

In witchcraft lore silver seems to have been credited with great power to dispense evil spirits, says the Philadelphia Record. In an old book on the subject one reads of a "valiant Souldier who had skill in Necromancy," and who always used "silver bullets to shoot away the witches." The evidences of such superstition are brought directly to the modern eye through the discovery made by a Pennsylvania farmer.

Mr. Vedderman is interested in curios, and purchased recently an old musket at a farmhouse sale. From its appearance the weapon antedates the revolution. It was in a deplorable state of rust, and in cleaning it the new owner discovered that it was loaded.

He carefully withdrew the charge, and to his surprise found instead of bullets two silver shillings, dated 1791, tightly wedged with leaves of a Bible of ancient print. Beneath the coins was a sheet of paper and a piece of paper containing an illegible quotation. The gunpowder was coarse and undoubtedly of colonial manufacture. The whole looks very much like a charmed charge, calculated to demolish some weird lady of the broomstick.

HUNTERS CARRYING DEER.

Arrangement by Which the Task Is Rendered Comparatively Easy.

My companion was set at tying the legs of the deer together, while I cut down a birch sapling some three inches in diameter and about ten feet in length, writes John Boyd, in Recreation.

A birch tree was chosen because it is clean and springy, and being tough grained a lesser size can be used than would be necessary with some other varieties, the extra weight of which count for much on a long carry.

This completed, the pole was pushed between the legs, now tied together at the knee joints, and the head of the animal secured by rope close up to the carrying pole.

It is an advantage to get the animal in as compact a mass as possible, for in going through dense brush every additional foot of burden you have to push and guide through the maze of branches the harder it will be on the carriers; and if the body of the deer is well lashed to the pole and as close up to it as possible the less strain there will be when you get into step in the open or when climbing over obstructions, getting up or down hills, or crossing streams on a fallen tree. It is in such places that the pendulum-like motion becomes a nuisance, but which is readily overcome by seeing that the animal is bound close to the carrying pole.

Holland Smoking Society.

A parliament of smokers which was organized at Laeken, in Holland, by a society which calls itself the Vlaamsche Pijpenrookers, has ended in the victory of one Frank Kos in the principal contest. Kos established a record of keeping his pipe alight for three hours and seven minutes without asking for a second match. The second in this competition was a man named Mertens, who kept his alight for two hours and 53 minutes, and the third was one Bruyneel, who smoked without a break for two hours and three-quarters.

London's Trading Square. The city of London, the mile square metropolis in which the bulk of London's financial and wholesale business is done, is likely soon to suppress all kinds of street trading.

"Calm" Policemen. The Parisian municipal committee who visited London recently were principally struck in the English capital by "the calm of the policemen."

Man with Plugged Coin Was Not Foxy Enough to Make It Work.

A friend of the proprietor went into a cigar store the other day and stepped to the slot telephone. Taking down the receiver, he told the girl at the central station what number he wanted. Then, says the Philadelphia Inquirer, while she was ringing up that number he called out to the proprietor or the store:

"Say, Bert, why isn't this a good place to work off this plugged dime?"

"It is," said the proprietor. "Chuck it in."

In a moment the girl said: "Ten cents please."

Down went the plugged dime into the slot.

"Too-oo-oot," went the little horn in the machine.

"Ten cents, please," said the girl again.

"I just put in a dime," he protested.

"I know," she answered, "but you'll have to put in another. That one was plugged."

"I thought probably it would be a good place to work off the plugged dime," the proprietor laughed later.

"It was. You worked it off all right."

"But how the mischief did she know it was plugged?" asked the friend. The horn tooted all right.

"Yes," said the proprietor, "but she's a pretty smart girl. She knows—especially when you hold the receiver in your hand and tell somebody you are going to put in a plugged coin."

MONKEY AND THE LADY.

Feminine Fashionable Has a New Whim Which Makes Her Conspicuous.

The monkey is being adopted as a pet by some women in these days. This fashion is exhibited to the world because it is the thing to do to take the monkey out driving with you, if you own one, says the New York Sun.

"I take my monkey out driving, just as I would a pet dog," explained a pioneer in this field.

Her friends did not believe her until the other day, when one of them came forward to corroborate her.

"I saw her," said this witness. "I was on a side street, standing at the curb about to cross the street, when I found my eyes fixed upon the almost human eyes of a monkey walking on the top of the closed doors of a passing hansom."

"Back of the monkey she sat looking as pretty as a picture and evidently most pleased with the attention that her pet was drawing to herself, not to mention herself."

"He was not one bit the barrel-organ type of monkey, but a dainty monkey wearing no other coat than his own natural fur, the color of a fawn with a sheen of satin."

"A silver collar set with turquoise circled the little creature's neck. A silver chain attached the collar to the mistress' hand. She, by the way, carried out the silver and pale blue color scheme charmingly in her own attire."

WORLD'S WETTEST PLACE.

Where the Average Annual Rainfall Is Nearly Thirty-Seven Feet.

The wettest place in the world, according to the Russian Meteorological Journal, as abstracted in the Review Scientifique, is Cherrapunji, in the Indian province of Assam. From 1898 to 1903 the average annual rainfall was 11,223 meters (nearly 37 feet).

Next came the environs of Bombay, with 6.83 meters annually. But it should be noted that at the station of Debundscha, in Kamerun, 10,454 meters (34 feet) of rain fell annually, chiefly in summer. The wettest year in Cherrapunji was 14,789 meters (48 feet) in 1891, and in Debundscha 14,123 meters (46 feet) in 1902. In the latter place there fell in the one day of June 16, 1902, 456 millimeters (over one and a half feet) of water—more than the whole annual average in the Parisian basin.

The neighborhood of warm seas and high mountains is the principal cause of these extraordinary precipitations. It may be expected that the extension of meteorological observation will show other zones of rainfall more intense than has been hitherto believed as in Java and Sumatra.

Hoot of the French Motor.

One generally thinks of the French language as being more musical than our harsher northern tongue. But the motor-hoot in French is a far more ear-splitting affair than it is in English. To begin with, it is more often a siren than a hoot, and all over France one now hears the long, excruciating wails that are generally associated with ships—or with souls in torment. And when, as in some instances, a railway whistle is substituted, and the automobile rushes shrieking over the country-side like an express train, the English tourist discovers very emphatically that he does not like the motor-horn with a French accent.

SOME INTERESTING SECRETS OF THE TRADE.

Maker of These Valuable Adjuncts to Locomotion Gives Some Particulars as to Their Manufacture.

"Oh, yes, indeed, they come pretty high," said the artificial leg maker. "It is a beauty, though, isn't it? I venture to say there isn't another one in Philadelphia like it, on or off, and it's as light as a feather, too."

With these words, says the Shoe Retailer, the creator of artificial limbs flourished a leg in the air. He was fat and smiling, and he spoke with an indistinguishable foreign accent, and every once in awhile his face beamed with enthusiasm.

"They all come to Philadelphia for them, too," he continued. "We've customers from all over Europe, Asia and Africa. There are lots of leg makers in the city—at least they call themselves such, but some of them are not leg makers at all; they're harness makers."

The august Philadelphia leg maker, purveyor to kings, queens and government officials, took a little time to show the specimens around the room. They were fat and thin, long and short, graceful and otherwise. Some of them were huddled in corners, accumulating the dust of ages; others hung aloft on racks, so light and airy that they were wafted to and fro in the breeze.

"You see," continued the leg maker, "we know how to do things now. We've got the secret all right. First they chop down the willow tree; then we cut out the legs. It takes a heap of flexible leather to put the tendons in the right place. See that spring in the ankles? That's made by the leather tendons. If you saw one on a man you could not tell the difference. Then the whole thing is covered over with fine pink enamel. Looks natural enough, doesn't it?" At this juncture a rap came at the door, and a big man, six feet four, weighing nearly 300 pounds, entered. He looked smilingly complaisant as he lit a cigarette and shook hands with the leg maker.

"Can you rush an order for me, double quick?" he asked. "I've come through a tough fight," he went on. "You know I always travel with a bunch of legs and coming up this way from New Orleans the Pullman car was burned and all four of my legs were lost. I only saved the one I had on, and now you've got to get to work to make another set for me double quick." With an air of languor and ease the big man stood to have himself measured.

"Do you know who he is?" questioned he of the leg trade, after the ponderous man had gone. "Well, he is the son of one of the richest women in the United States. He lost his leg through disease, and he always comes to Philadelphia to have his sets made. Plain, ordinary boxes do for most people to cart their legs around in, but he's got fine leather cases with his name engraved upon them."

"Do many of them go in on such a wholesale plan?" was queried of the leg maker.

"Heaps of them," he replied, laconically. "Some of them can do anything with 'em. There's one young man in this city who belongs to a glee club and they tell me he's the best dancer of Irish jigs in the town. He was a good dancer before he lost his leg, and he's all right yet. No; we have no lady attendants. We ought to have, though. What's the reason? Oh, because there is not one woman in Philadelphia that I can find who knows the trade. Pity, too, because there's money in it. A good leg maker ought to make at least $25 per week."

"There are six or seven men in public life, well known, who wear artificial limbs. None but their intimate friends and families know it, however. One young lady in Philadelphia who led a number of dances last winter has an artificial leg. It is easy to walk with one after you learn how to use them."

"Oh, yes, artificial leg making is the thing for me," concluded the leg maker. "I started out as a fine carpenter, doing up banks and public buildings, and one day I went into a place in New York to order an artificial limb for a friend in distress. The maker was a doctor, strange to say. He sized me up and I sized him up, and in a short time I was under contract to work for him. They can't steal our patents, either, for it's as hard to make an artificial limb without years of learning as it would be for some tinhorn maker to produce a Stradivarius."

The Emir's Capital.

It is reported that the emir of Afghanistan contemplates the removal of his capital to a more northern site. Owing to the energetic way in which the present emir and his immediate predecessor have been manufacturing guns and machinery the country around Kabul has been denuded to such an extent that fuel is now unobtainable. So great are the straits to which the emir is reduced by the want of wood that it is imperative that a new site should be obtained, and this will probably be found in the wooded slopes of the mountains farther north.

One of the Most Delightful Pleasures of the Changing Seasons.

It would be well for one who has never studied vegetation in winter to begin his cold-weather rambles in November. At that season, writes Frank French, in "A Winter Bouquet," in Century, in sheltered places an occasional leaf will cling to the stem, furnishing the key to identification. It does not readily recognize his companions of the summer. He will find the witch hazel, latest flower of the year, flaunting its belated blossoms in freakish abandon among its sear and yellow leaves, while its mimic artillery bombards the surrounding thickets with polished seeds, the fruitage of a year ago.

He will find the stone walls decked with clustered whorls of the long, fuzzy seed tails of wild clematis. Aster will hold up their purple balls of downy seeds by the roadside, inviting the wind to waft them to fresh fields and pastures new. The goldenrod will be shorn of her hoyden of yellow tresses, and will stand chastened and penitent in tassels and fringes of gray, exhibiting throughout the winter a quality of beauty which she did not possess before.

Even after the blizzards of February have howled over the marshes he will find them fringed with sedges and studded with cattails, still proudly erect. The low-lying thickets will be wreathed with the vine and decked with the bronze-yellow seed pods of the yam. The dark blue fruit of the carrion flower will mingle with the red berries of the black alder. So on to the warm March day when the skunk cabbage thaws its pathway up through the frozen ground, nature will yield abundant satisfaction to his craving for the wonderful and beautiful.

The pillared aisles of the winter forest will be to him as worthy a temple as the green wood. Its everchanging vistas will beckon him on to fresh discoveries, and will stir his being with that vague sentiment of expectation and hope which alone renders life worth living.

On the other hand, he who sits gloomy and sluggish in the inglenook, gazing through a frosted window upon his buried garden, feeling that winter is dismal and nature dead, will miss the keenest, most chaste and refined pleasure which the changing seasons hold.

VARIETIES OF TRUFFLES.

The Violet Is Most Highly Esteemed and the Summer Most Common.

Of varieties we may mention, first, the violet truffle, which abounds in Perigord and Provence, says American Homes and Gardens. It is covered with polygonal warts and often marked with rusty spots. Its weight usually ranges from 60 to 100 grams (two to 3½ ounces), though specimens weighing 500 grams (more than a pound) are sometimes found. At maturity, which it reaches in late autumn or winter, its flesh is black with a reddish or violet sheen. Its agreeable flavor and delicate odor make it the most highly esteemed of all varieties.

The black truffle, smaller than the preceding, and of variable size, is found about four inches below the surface of the ground. Its flesh is gray or bluish, marked with light red spots at maturity. It is not in very great demand, because of its musky odor.

The St. John's or summer truffle is gathered in July or in October. The tubers of this species are rounded, and have a brownish black skin and large polygonal warts, striped transversely. The flesh, nearly white at first, becomes, on ripening, a clay yellow or light brownish-bister. The summer truffle is found everywhere in the forests of central and southern France, growing under horn beams, birches and hazel bushes. Though its rather coarse, onionlike odor lessens its value, it is almost the only variety seen in the markets of England, Germany and Piedmont.

The truffle, known as the "grosse fousine," or "pitchfork," somewhat resembles the St. John's truffle, but is distinguished from it by the smallness of its warts, its moderate size, rough black skin and dark, tawny gray flesh, marked with fine black lines and usually by a broad cleft near the base.

Another wild species which is still sold is the musk truffle, known in Provence by the name of "callette." The remaining wild species, which are included under the general designation of "dog's nose," because of their resemblance to the muzzle of that useful quadruped, possess no gastronomic importance.

Mountain Sheep Become Tame.

Mountain sheep in the vicinity of W. F. Glens' ranch are becoming very tame. Mr. Glens, who is a special game warden, says that nearly every morning six or eight of these animals gather around his house to be fed. There are between 40 and 50 sheep in the flock, but only a few of them have become tame. This is the largest flock of these animals in the state as far as here.—Denver Republican.

State of Affairs.

"Your police and fire departments seem to hold each other in supreme contempt," observed the visitor in Plunkville.

"Well, yes; there is a little feeling of that sort," acknowledged the native Plunkvillian. "You see, our police station got robbed about a month ago and a week later our fire engine house burned down."—Chicago Sun.

Huh? Miss Pounden-Thump—You're not a music lover, I'm afraid.

Mr. Foots-Innit—Indeed I am. What makes you think I'm not?

Miss P.-T.—I thought you looked bored while I was playing.

Mr. F.-J.—I may have looked bored, but I do love music. —Cleveland Leader.

Rejoicing.

I sat behind a theater hat. And as I heard the way The actors talked, how glad I was I couldn't see the play.

A CHANGE OF PROGRAMME.

Mike—It's always the unexpected wot 'appens. Last night I went 'ome thinking the missus would 'it me with the poker.

Jack—And she didn't?

Mike—No; she 'it me with the flat-iron and an old boot. Wot is a man to do?

An Achievement. In language, simple truth to tell, He must have studied long and well— He can recite and also spell. A complicated college yell. —Washington Star.

"A university?"

"A university."

"How lacking in distinction! I looked to her to hit upon something which would be not only costly, but out of the ordinary."—Puck.

Something Doing. Mrs. Dearborn—I hear your husband has opened a law office.

Mrs. Wabash—Yes, he has.

"How is he getting along?"

"Oh, he is doing nicely, thank you."

"Who is he doing nicely?"—Yonkers Statesman.

Do It Now. Customer—Why don't you tack up this "Do It Now" motto? It's been lying around on the counter for a month!

Grocer—Wa-al, I'm a-go'in' tew tack it up sometime—if I ever git to it!—Judge.

An Exception. "Misfortunes," growled the pessimist, "always come in pairs—"

"Oh, I don't know," remarked Jackson Trays, "I've won a number of pretty good pots with pairs."—Philadelphia Press.

Grand Larceny. He—Suppose I steal a kiss?

She—Oh, that would be petty larceny!

He—And suppose I steal a hundred?

She—Oh, that would be grand, of course.—Judge.

As Arranged. First Pickpocket—Here he comes, now!

Second Pickpocket—All right. You keep a watch on 'im while I take a watch off 'im!—Cassell's.

Testimonial. "I'm told that Dr. Yarbidge's medicine is mighty good for rheumatism. What do you think about it?"

"I suspect it is. My rheumatism seemed to thrive on it."—Chicago Sun.

Perfectly Safe. Him—I wonder if it would be safe for me to steal a kiss?

Her—Oh! how can you ask such a question when I am helpless and alone?—Cleveland Leader.

Unexpected Surplus. The Barber—Shampoo? No— Shall I singe the ends of the hair?

Elderly Party—Say, do I look as if I had hair to burn?—Life.

His Own Estimate. "He can't value himself highly."

Y—Why not?

"Because he's always giving himself away."—Cassell's.

What Did He Expect? "I thought he was going on a polar expedition?"

"He was; but he got cold feet."—Houston Post.

A Kicker. Bill—What is your wife's idea of modern football?

Jill—Oh, there's not enough kicking in it to suit her.—Yonkers Statesman.

THE JOINT FIRE COMMITTEE OF THE BOARDS OPEN
BIDS FOR NEW HOSE.

This afternoon is the time set for the board of works to open bids for Culvert.

Yesterday Mr. W. H. Anders, of the St. Louis Pushing Machine company, had out his street cleaner and operated it upon different public thoroughfares down in the city, to show the board of public works how it was manipulated. It did the work finely, the force of water coming out of the tank forcing the dirt to one side of the street. The dirt accumulation was so heavy, on account of the streets not having been cleaned for several days, that the carts had to be used, but when the thoroughfares are cleaned nightly the dirt when forced to one side of the street, by the water where it will drop into the storm sewers.

Another St. Louis concern will have a street cleaning machine here in a few days for a test, and this afternoon, during the meeting of the board of public works, that body will decide on the machine in which the machines shall be tested against each other in order to see which does the same work in the best manner.

Buy New Fire Hose.

The joint fire committee of the city legislative boards will meet this afternoon to open bids put in by houses desiring to supply the Paducah fire department with the 3,000 feet of new hose. The representatives of the factories here are:

Bids for Culvert.

This afternoon, during the meeting of the board of public works, bids will be opened for the new concrete culvert to be constructed in Cross creek on Caldwell street several hundred feet north of the Union depot. The culvert goes where now stands the last wooden bridge spanning the creek.

The wooden bridge has been the source of much expense to the authorities, who at last deemed it advisable to tear it away for the permanent improvement.
